

LIST OF CHARACTERS - FOR THE HOST'S EYES ONLY

CHARACTER NAME AND OCCUPATION	CHARACTER DESCRIPTION	COSTUME SUGGESTIONS
 HELOISE AUCOIN Marathon Runner REQUIRED Female	Heloise Aucoin is the ultra-energetic Marathon Runner from Northern California! Chronically homesick, Heloise treks across country to her home town of New Orleans for the Mardi Gras celebrations every year. Heloise is known by her outwardly aggressive persona but her weird habit of constantly ducking to avoid imaginary insects is quite entertaining.	Athletic Attire. An optional number taped to the back of the shirt/jacket.
 LEON NAQUIN Bourbon Street Chef, Balatoire's Restaurant REQUIRED Male	Leon Naquin is the Executive Chef at the infamous Bourbon Street restaurant, Balatoire's. Battling daily with a severe case of obsessive compulsive disorder; this chef has the absolute cleanest kitchen in town! Leon is passive-aggressive so you'll never know which Leon you're speaking to until it's too late!	Chef costume. Optional spatula and napkin as props.
 BERNADETTE DE LA FOSSE Bourbon Street Performer REQUIRED Female	Strolling down Bourbon Street, there's no doubt that you'll run into the smooth sounds of Bernadette De La Fosse. A long-time street performer on Bourbon Street, Bernadette is gregarious and a tad loony at times. With dreams of becoming a famous comedienne, she performs her standup comedy routine for anyone with an extra minute.	Soft, free flowing gypsy-style attire. Optional guitar (real or fake) as a prop.
 ZENOBIA LEBLANC Leader of the 'Pink Cajuns Motorcycle Club' REQUIRED Female	Zenobia LeBlanc is a bored and rebellious heiress that one day woke up and decided to be a cross-country biker. But don't let first impressions guide your thoughts about Zenobia as this fearless leader of the 'rough and tough' Pink Cajuns Motorcycle Club is known for her perfect etiquette and literary proficiency.	Biker attire (leather jacket / pants, biker gloves, fake tattoos (or real if you've got 'em).
 JEAN-BAPTISTE DOUCET High School Football Referee REQUIRED Male	Jean-Baptiste Doucet is an infamous referee in good ole' New Orleans...but certainly not infamous for good cause. Jean-Baptiste is the long-time head high school football referee who has made more than his share of enemies on the field and in the stands. It's no secret that Jean-Baptiste is half blind and deaf and his Attention Deficit Disorder keeps him from keeping a close eye on the game. Why this man chose to be a referee – nobody will ever know the answer to that!	Referee uniform. Optional whistle as a prop. Thick, 'coke-bottle' glasses and a hearing aid as fake optional accessories.
 ACADIA LAFLEUR High School Cheerleading Coach REQUIRED Female	Acadia La Fleur is the spunky high school cheerleading coach. With a voice that carries over two blocks away, she's not one to sneak up on anybody! Acadia is ultra-feminine and the ultimate drama queen. Get some tissues ready for this diva of emotion!	Warm up suit. Optional whistle as a prop.
 JACQUES BERGERON S.W.A.T. Team, New Orleans Police Department REQUIRED Male	Jacques Bergeron was recently promoted to the New Orleans S.W.A.T. team and is taking his new position quite seriously. He trusts nobody and believes that random chaos will ensue at any given moment – and he is more than ready for it. Jacques needs to learn to relax!	Police uniform. Toy gun(s) as optional props.
 CLOVIS CHATELAIN Bourbon Street Jazz Musician REQUIRED Male	Clovis Chatelain is the laid back, friendly Jazz Musician. A lover of music and people, Clovis hits Bourbon Street at 5 AM to entertain the early risers! All seems well with Clovis on the surface but rumor has it that he's hiding his sordid past. But this story could've been concocted from the neighborhood rumor mill.	Casual but trendy attire. Optional jazz instrument (real or fake) as a prop.

	OPHELIA BOURQUE Professional Bowler Optional Female	Ophelia Bourque is the professional bowler who lives her life as though it's the 1950s. From her ultra-conservative attire to the golden-oldies slang she spews, she's extremely set in her ways. Ophelia is a constant celebrator and gets overly excited at the hint of good news. She also loves to dance if she hears music so get ready to cut a rug with her if you're in arms reach!	1950's attire and / or a 1950's style bowling outfit. Hair done in a 1950's up-do.
	BERTRAND BUJEAU Martial Artist, Bourbon Street Dojo Optional Male	Tons of young ones from around the city travel to the Bourbon Street Dojo to take martial arts lessons from the modern day Ninja - Sensei Bertrand Budeau. From a mixed Japanese and Cajun heritage, Bertrand is all about culture! He's quiet in social gatherings and prefers to stand back in the shadows as his extensive martial arts training makes him highly sensitive to his surroundings.	Martial artist costume.
	BEAUREGARD FAUCHE Opera Singer, New Orleans Opera House Optional Male	The egotistical Beauregard Fauche is the star Opera Singer at the New Orleans Opera House. Beauregard loves to chat about how wonderful he is and incessantly views his reflection in any reflective surface. If you can look beyond Beauregard Fauche's superficial layers, there's actually a pretty decent person in there somewhere.	Black and white tuxedo (or suit) or a traditional Opera stage costume.
	MAGNOLIA THIBODEAUX Hostess, Café Beignet Optional Female	If you dine at the Café Beignet during Magnolia Thibodeaux's shift – you better not be in a hurry! Magnolia's in no rush to do anything while she's at work and simply dislikes her job because of her preference to be around animals over people. Even worse, if her co-workers make the mistake of confiding in her – it will be only seconds before their secret is out. Magnolia has absolutely no conscience.	Casual hostess/waitress attire.
	ALPHONSE DUGAS Blackjack Dealer, Harrold's Casino Optional Male *This character can be expanded with Alphonse's friends and fellow card dealers.	Alphonse Dugas is the lively blackjack dealer from Harrold's Casino in New Orleans. Only half of what comes out of his mouth is the truth and he even lies when the truth is better! His closest friends also always grumble about how he is an incessant cheater at board games. So if he is that deceitful with his best pals...who knows what goes on at the Blackjack table! Rumor also has it that Alphonse has a bad gambling habit and has accrued a massive debt with bookies in town. This might be why he is never seen without his buddies from the Casino.	Shirt and tie with a dealer visor. Optional nametag as a prop.
	BELLE ARCENAU Housewife and Nosy Neighbor Optional Female *This character can be expanded to Belle's friends from the neighborhood.	Belle Arcenau is the catty urbanite housewife that knows absolutely everyone's business in the neighborhood. A rich source of the latest gossip, Belle keeps the drama going among the wives of the French Quarter. The saying 'keep your enemies close' explains why Belle has a flock of her 'friends' with her at all time. They all know that if they're with Belle – they won't be the subject of any malicious tittle-tattle!	House dress, rollers in hair (optional but funny) and a notepad as an optional prop.

A word about expandable characters: The characters that you assign to play the expanded players on either Alphonse or Belle's team will have duplicate materials (i.e. clue cards) of their leader (Alphonse or Belle) and will play as a group with their leader as a team throughout the game. You can put as many duplicate characters on either of these teams that you need. These characters are ideal for players that do not want a huge role in the game, but still want to play. Or, if you have tentative guests that might not show up to your party, you can assign them to these roles and it will not affect your game in any way if they do not come to your party.
